

Day 7

Wild Horse Butte to Thermopolis—20 miles

August 7, 2010

At the end of the trail, you can say you've done it!

6:30am: Enjoy your last cup of camp coffee, feed and water the horses, break down camp and take ALL your gear to the luggage area.

7:00am: Breakfast and pick up your sack lunch.

8:00am: We're heading to Thermopolis.

Noon: That sack lunch tastes good. A little time for reflection: a great accomplishment, but it's coming to an end. Next week this time, you'll be back at your desk. You'll miss the days in the saddle and the world with no phones, TV or radios.

3:00pm: YaHoo! Back in Thermopolis and at the Fairgrounds. Get your horse set with water, and a flake of hay on the picket lines. Time to find your gear and get to your hotel. A long leisurely soak in the hot tub, then time to dress and head to the banquet.

End of the Trail Banquet and Western Auction at the VFW Hall.

5:00pm: No host Cocktails. Be sure and sign up for a souvenir from the Silent Auction, or buy your OTR souvenirs.

7:00pm: Prime rib supper. Savor the meal and the time among new friends.

9:00pm: Dance to the music of the Lost Springs Band.

Next week, when a whisper of the wind and smell of sagebrush floats through your mind—

Stop and remember—the adventure of a lifetime.
